LGT Private Banking in Asia Pacific

A look inside the Princely Collections

For more than 400 years, the Princes of Liechtenstein have been passionate art collectors. The Princely Collections include key works of European art stretching over five centuries and are now among the world's major private art collections. The notion of promoting fine arts for the general good enjoyed its greatest popularity during the Baroque period. The House of Liechtenstein has pursued this ideal consistently down the generations. We make deliberate use of the works of art in the Princely Collections to accompany what we do. For us, they embody those values that form the basis for a successful partnership with our clients: expertise, reliability and a long-term perspective.

The Princely House of Liechtenstein

The Principality of Liechtenstein is an independent state headed by one of the most established noble families in Europe, the Princely Family of Liechtenstein.

An enduring entrepreneurial spirit

For nearly 900 years, an entrepreneurial spirit, long-term perspective and disciplined management have been central to the Princely Family's approach to growing and managing significant wealth across generations.

Today, the Princely Family's business interests in Europe and Asia Pacific span finance, real estate, forestry, winemaking, agriculture and renewable energy.

The Princely Family has owned LGT for more than 90 years. Our owner's wealth of experience forms the basis for LGT's investment approach for individuals and institutions. We apply the skills we have built as the family office of the Princely Family to advise you and manage your assets and interests.

Beyond commercial interests, the Princely Family is also passionate about art. They are owners of the Princely Collections, a renowned art portfolio of European masterpieces built up over centuries. Exhibited in Vienna and around the world, the Princely Collections promote cultural exchange across communities.

Vaduz Castle, Principality of Liechtenstein

The Princely Family is also deeply rooted in Asia Pacific through venture philanthropy, continuing its long tradition of supporting less advantaged communities in progressive and sustainable ways.

Inspired by the Princely Family and its ongoing business, cultural and philanthropic commitment, LGT continues to represent the House of Liechtenstein's values and spirit in Asia Pacific and around the world.
